Digital Works

Designed by industry professionals, this digital lab brings the disciplines of a professional studio and the creative environment of an educational facility together. Working with design students from CCAD, Denison and COTC the digital studio is now offering design services to local businesses and non-profit organizations. Students get the experience of working for a client and organizations get professional design services at an affordable cost. For examples of student work, click here.

Classes

Designed by industry professionals, this state of the art lab brings together the disciplines of a professional studio and the creative environment of an educational facility. The Apple G4 Digital Studio enables students to create multimedia presentations using Photoshop, Freehand, Illustrator, Flash, InDesign, and other software.
